Going Places

Stay ahead of the crowd with this guide to where you need to be and how to get there

Navigating Cannes might not be the most challenging thing in the world, but let's face it: You're probably tired, maybe a little hung over, it's hot, your feet hurt, a teenager on a scooter just missed you by an inch, and the theater you need to be at in five minutes is 10 minutes away. To get you from Point A to Point B (or C, or D) with as little anxiety as possible, here's a handy bird's-eye view of Cannes so you can plan your travels accordingly. Just be sure to look both ways when crossing the Rue d'Antibes. Happy trails.
